SATURDAY'S BANK STATEMENT.

Reinforcement of the Reserves-The Deficiency Reduced to $2,000,000.

The week in Wall street has witnessed a connuation of the remarkable contest between BORROWERS AND LENDERS of money, and wide and frequent fluctuations in the rates paid and exacted for its use from day to day. The searcity of funds during the past month has excited the utmost surprise at the, mystery of where all the money has gene to. Indeed, the difficulty in getting at money from , day to day has provoked the speculation whether, in the reaction from the paper money issues of the war, we have reached the stage at which money has begun to be more valuable than prop-erty; and we might be induced to begin to think seriously about such an

did we not know that within the next sixty days money, or its paper representative, will be a drug in the market, and be worth, as a source of revenue, less than a three per cent British consol. The rise in gold, and the exceeding stringency in money, are both indices of something radically wrong in our monetary system which need dial action in Congress. Both are more of less the result of artificial manipulation of the markets; but then such individual or chique control ought not to be possible. The remedy of A FREE BANKING LAW.

with a provision requiring the country banks to keep a redeeming agent at New York, would go far to give the currency system an elasticity which is now sadly deficient, and which would prevent the enormous deportation of money from New York in the Spring and Fall and excessive redundancy of it in the idle months of Summer. The repeal of the usury laws in the State of New York, at least for the metropolitan d strict, as a supplement to the passage of a free banking law in Congress, would defeat the efforts of combinations to derange the money market. As matters have been the past few weeks money, as a possession or investment, has paid larger proportional dividends than anything on the share list. THE RATE ON CALL.

as the Wall street expression goes for transactions in money from day to day, has ranged all the way from 7 to 365 per cent per annum. On Thursday it was thought great hardship to have to pay 36 per cent for money until Saturday, but on Saturday borrowers had to pay as high as 3/4 per cent for money until Monday. The singular feature of the business is, furthermore, the fluctuation in a single day, which has often been from one of these extremes to the other. That is, money was to be had at some period nearly every day at 7 per cent, or 7 per cent gold, although before or after loans were made at the

MOST EXTRAVAGANT TERMS of the present crisis. The persistency with which money lenders succeeded in keeping up rates, notwithstanding the steady and abundant influx of currency from the interior, has been paralleled by the success of the gold clique in maintaining their operations against the lighter importations of eigh goods, the lowness of the foreign exchanges and other important influences adverse to their plans, not the least among the last mentioned being the revival of the foreign demand for American government and railroad bonds. With all this the market seemed as pliable as could be in their hands. They opened it at 119%, sold until they depressed it to 117% and then bought until they ed it on Saturday to 119%. Usually these

OPERATIONS IN GOLD would have been attended with less success because of the outlet any rise would give to demestic comparative impunity, because they know that the prevalent stringency in money prevents the exporters from placing their bills of exchange at equable rates, a seeming paradox lying in the fact that scarce money, which should depress gold, actually helps its artificial advancement. The speculation at the Stock Exchange has been more con. servative under the restraint of tight money, but the fluctuations in prices have been comparatively narrow. From about Tuesday, when the lowest prices were made, to Thursday, there was a general rise and no little buoyancy on the eve of the Good Friday holiday, but the recurrent excessive stringency of Saturday almost undid the improvement. The rise in gold carried up government bonds to the highest figures they have seen in several years, the '67's, for instance, touching 119% and the sixes favorable in so far at it shows a gain of a million and a quarter dollars in the net reserve of the banks, whose deficiency is now reduced to about two millions, which is pretty equally distributed between the National and State banks. Otherwise the statement is an utter puzzle to the street, particularly in the item of deposits, which shows a de-crease of about three quarters of a million, when the lact is known that the receipts of currency from the interior during the week have been at least five and probably nearly ten millions of dollars. A decrease of two millions in loans is only a partial explanation of the inconsistency. No one can contemplate the matter without wondering at the mysterious absence of the money. If it has passed into the clutches of

THE "LOCKING-UP" CONSPIRATORS, then their resources are beyond the most travagant estimate of Wall street. An in crease of half a million in legal tenders indicater, that the returning currency is beginning to be of a kind which will materially strengthen the banks. COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Coffee Dull-Flour Quiet and Weak-Wheat Firm-Corn and Oats Steady-Pork Firm-Lard Steady-Groceries Quiet-Petroleum Inactive but Firmer-Spirits Turpentine and Rosin More Active and Higher-Whiskey Steady. SATURDAY, April 12-6 P. M.

The trade movement during the week which has just closed has been only fair, when regarded as a whole, though comparatively active in some departments. The Spring business, though backward and not so excited as it is sometimes wont to be, has been more steady and perhaps rather more healthy since its commencement than is usual. Besides it promises to continue longer, so that, judg ing from the prevailing indications, the volume of the entire Spring's business will not fail behind, even though it does not exceed, that of some of its predecessors. The unexpected, and according to the undivided opinion the mercantile public, wholly unnecessary radical enhancement of the gold premium has been one of the chief drawbacks, and has occasioned no little dissatisfaction with the administration's manipulation of the monetary affairs of the country. A staple currency is one of the necessities of a healthy prosecution of commercial matters, and nothing is so deleterious in its influence as a constantly and radically varying currency. The recent violent fluctuations and radical advance in the gold premium is but another term for a constantly depreciating currency, and has very naturally-alarmed the business mind of the country to a considerable extent, and, by consequence, interfered to a greater or less degree with the le-gitimate prosecution of the business of the country. Yet, in spite of these disturbing influences, a fair business has been done in this, the chief business mart of the country, while values have fluctuated very much less than might have been expected, or than probably would have been the case had there been any apparent reason for the material enhancement of the gold premium, or any general belief in its permanency. The business in dry goods, hardware and kindred articles has been fair during the week, prices showing comparatively few and unimportant fluctuations, while the movement in breadstuffs was very slow, at prices which, showing in breadstuffs was very slow, at prices which, showing but hitle change, were still unsatisfactory alike to buyer and selier. Provisions have found ready market nearly all the week and the market showed increasing strength fr.m day to day. On saturday the markets were hearly all quiet. On Change four was quiet and weak. Wheat was a little more sought after and rather ormer, yet not quiotably higher. Corn and oats were in moderate roquest and showed no material change as regards prices. Fork was quiet but firm, and the market for lard was about in the same condition. Other provisions, such as bacon, cut meats. Ac, were in mar request and firm. Groceries were quiet and steady. Petroleum was firmer but nominal in the absence of transactions. Naval stores were in fair request, and the market closed decidedly firmer for both spirits and rosin. Whiskey was quiet at unchanged prices. spirits and rosin. Whiskey was quiet at unchanged Pices.
